

San Diego Convention Center Named to "TOP 10 BEST DESIGNED CENTERS IN THE WORLD" List

A panel of respected architects has just named the San Diego Convention Center among the top 10 facilities in the world for its trend-setting design and functionality. Expo magazine, a meeting industry publication, asked the experts to identify convention centers designs that best meet the needs of meeting planners, exhibitors and attendees, as well as those that have a "wow" factor that captures the feel of the destination. This is another honor for our convention center.

The other convention centers named included:

- ▶ Boston Convention and Exhibition Center
- ▶ Hong Kong Convention Center
- ▶ Lucerne Culture and Convention Center, Switzerland
- ▶ McCormick Place; Ontario, CA, Convention Center
- ▶ Reno-Sparks Convention Center
- ▶ Rhode Island Convention Center
- ▶ Washington, D.C. Convention Center
- ▶ Washington State Convention and Trade Center.

The architects have been designing convention centers for a combined total of more than 65 years. They are Chris Eseman, AIA, Partner, LMN Architects in Seattle; Don Grinberg, FAIA, Principal Architect/Director, Convention Center Architecture, HNTB Corp., Boston; and C. Andrew McLean, FAIA, Senior Principal with TVS and Associates, Atlanta.

For more information, click here, or visit our web site at www.sdccc.org.